Law Librarian

VOLUME 19, NUMBER 2

WINTER, 1994

Official newsletter of the Southeastern Chapter of A.A.L.L.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Even in Florida it can be cold this time of year, but I'm looking forward to Spring and our annual meeting in the attractive setting of Asheville. Many of our Lucile Elliot Scholarship recipients are also eagerly anticipating the opportunity to interact with colleagues from around the Chapter. Congratulations to all of our Scholarship winners, we're happy to support your professional endeavors.

Firm Librarians Survey. This past fall Connie Matzen conducted a survey of law firm librarian members of SEALL to determine the obstacles of their attendance at the annual conference. A brief summary of the results indicate that the need to do budgeting in the fall and the travel costs to the meeting are the primary deterrent. The Lucile Elliot Scholarships serve as an excellent supplement for attendance at SEALL and other activities. The board will be reexamining the scholarship process, and intend to better meet the needs of the membership.

SEALL Members Run for Office. I want to congratulate our SEALL members who are running for the AALL Executive Board. Ed Edmonds and Pat Strougal represent some of the finest our Chapter has to offer. Both of them have been major contributors to the success of the Chapter and I know they would be excellent additions to the AALL Board. I've got my pen (or pencil) ready for my ballot!

SEALL Institute in Asheville. Please take note of the more detailed information in this issue regarding the SEALL Institute. The information on speakers was not available at the time the Conference Registration information was distributed, but it is presented here. Registration deadlines for both the Institute and the Annual Conference are March 4.

SEALL Conference in Richmond. Plans are already underway for the Annual Conference next year in Richmond - we're an efficient, organized bunch! Joyce Janto and Terry Long are exploring activities to enRICH our time in Richmond. I'm looking forward to the entire event April 7-9, 1995.

NEW Membership Brochure. I want to express special thanks to Paula Tejeda's Membership Committee for revising and updating the membership brochure. Please contact Paula if you know of someone interested in joining our Chapter.

Committee Annual Reports. The traditional thing to say is that the year has gone by so fast, so having said that; I want to remind the Committee Chairs that I will need your annual reports by April 1.

H.R. 3400. Several SEALL members are also members of the AALL Government Relations Committee. Carol Roehrenbeck has been keeping a watch on the Government Reform and Savings Act of 1993. The bill significantly affects GPO operations, placing the Depository Library Program under the Library of Congress, among other major shifts. My information indicates that AALL will be presenting a written position statement at the Senate hearings.

SEALL DIRECTORY ISSUE -- SEE INSERT AT PAGE 8

EDITOR'S NOTE

Welcome to the pre-conference issue of the Southeastern Law Librarian. You will find an abundance of information on the conference and on a number of related activities. I would like to thank the members of the Local Arrangements Committee for their work in providing me with the articles and informational notices which appear. It is also appropriate to thank the other committee chairs, and the members of the Newsletter Committee for their efforts in providing me with timely data so that all of our members can be as well informed as this format permits.

As you have already noted, from the size of this issue, the 1994 SEALL Membership Directory, has been included. Not only will all of our members be receiving this updated version, but handling it in this fashion provides a monetary savings as well. Although printing cost are approximately the same, the bulk mailing of one shipment, rather than two separate items helps keep our costs down. When in Asheville, please take the time to thank Pam Williams for all of her efforts in updating the membership database, and for compiling and editing this helpful Directory.

Finally, I am always looking for articles, notices, or just about anything that has value to our members for inclusion in the Southeastern Law Librarian. Please do not be shy. If you would like to have something placed in the newsletter, or if you would like to write an article, than contact me directly. I will be happy to talk over any ideas you might have. No idea is too crazy to be discussed. My address, phone numbers, and e-mail account is listed below. Do not hesitate to give me a ring.

WHEN IN ASHEVILLE

by Sally Selmer

Pack Square in the heart of Asheville's historic downtown, is a great place to begin exploring the city's cultural life. The galleries, shops, restaurants, and courtyards on the Square celebrate the area's mountain traditions and its development as a cosmopolitan center.

Pack Place is the epitome of Asheville as a city of contrasts. The Italian Renaissance building began its service to the community as the Pack Memorial Library in 1926. Following its recent stunning renovation it now houses three ultra modern museums, a state-of-the-art theatre, inviting cafe, and museum shop.

The Asheville Art Museum's permanent collection focuses on twentieth century visual art. During March, 1994 the museum will host traveling exhibitions of works from the Tiffany Studio and a North Carolina glass artists collection.

The Health Adventure is sure to be a hit with the younger set. Its mission is to provide a health and related sciences education center for all ages. It truly covers the body and the spirit. There are plenty of hands-on exhibits and demonstrations of the body's systems and nutrition. The Adventure will display the winning photographs from the Parade Magazine's recent "Champions" contest in March.

North Carolina is the home to more than 300 different minerals and the Colburn Gem & Mineral Museum celebrates these resources. The collection features minerals from around the world and examines the role North Carolina has played in discovering and utilizing these natural wonders from the earliest tools to the Space Shuttle.

With its marvelous facilities including acoustics and lighting, the Diana Wortham Theatre provides a dramatic and sophisticated setting for a diverse range of performers and companies. On Saturday March 26, the theatre will present a matinee performance of Uncle Al's Whiz Bang Fun Show, a delightful mixture of poetry, stories, juggling and puppets.

Affiliated with Pack Place is the Young Men's Institute commissioned by George Vanderbilt in 1893. This newly refurbished cultural center features a permanent collection of African artifacts and continues its history of community service through programs, classes, and exhibits on African-American culture.

If shopping is your passion, Asheville is paradise! There are studios, malls and retail outlets available to satisfy the most avid shopper.

Boutiques conveniently located on the grounds of the Grove Park Inn display a variety of unique items and are a perfect place to begin a shopping spree. Closely situated is the Grovewood Gallery at the historic Homespun Shops which specializes in works of many of the southeast's finest craftspeople and is a haven for craft artists.

Biltmore Village was designed by George Vanderbilt's architects and was built just outside of the main gates of Biltmore House. The picturesque manorial village now houses a collection of shops and restaurants with enticing names such as Great Expectations, The Secret Garden, Mudpies, The Baggie Goose, and many more. You can find personal treasures and hand crafted items while on a walk through the delightful stores.

Downtown Asheville also has a wonderful selection of art galleries, book stores, boutiques, restaurants and an antiques mall which beckon all shoppers and browsers to their doors.

The Appalachian Craft Center features folk pottery, traditional crafts and collectibles. If you are interested in finding more folk heritage and want to venture a little further, there is the Folk Art Center located on the Blue Ridge Parkway. It is one of Appalachia's oldest and best-known craft shops. Its companion store, Guild Crafts, is smaller and located closer to the Grove Park Inn.

Malls are represented by Biltmore Square and the Asheville Mall which is home to almost one hundred stores.

Or, for those who need some serious retail therapy, there are the outlets! The River Ridge Outlet Center, Swatches, and Tops for Shoes are in Asheville. There are fabric, linen, clothing, lamp and furniture outlets in nearby areas to satisfy almost every shopper.

SPECIAL MEAL REQUESTS?

Please contact Connie Matzen at 919-821-6658, or via fax at 919-821-6800, if you have any special dietary needs, or would like to request special meals. Last minute requests are always difficult to fulfill, so please call in your requests as soon as possible.

TRIP TICKLERS

Questions You May Have About Local Arrangements for the SEALL Meeting:

What should I pack?

Layers, layers, layers, - Recently it has been unusually cold. In late March the weather is quite variable: it may be either cold or spring-like. Just be prepared for the possibility of snow and ice, or a "balmy" 50 degree day.

How do I get there?

For you drivers, a map of the area is on the back of your Grove Park Inn registration confirmation. Anyone interested in joining a carpool should contact Martha Barefoot at UNC-Chapel Hill School of Law (Fax 919-962-1193). Major airlines flying into Asheville include Delta, American, United or U.S. Air.

When and where do I register?

Registration will be in the Carolina Walkway, which is to the right of the Hotel Registration Desk and is the connection to the Sammons Wing:

Wednesday	4:00-8:00 p.m.
Thursday	8:15-9:00 a.m. 3:00-6:00 p.m.
Friday	8:00-8:30 a.m.
Saturday	8:00-8:30 p.m.

What if I have special diet considerations?

Friday's luncheon is an Appalachian style barbecue buffet of roasted pork, broasted chicken, and baked trout, along with an assortment of vegetables and salads. Dinner at the Biltmore Estate will feature warm duck salad, and quail medallions with wild rice. Let Connie Matzen know immediately if you prefer a special menu for either of these meals (Fax 919-821-6800).

Will I be able to tour the Biltmore Estate on Saturday, too?

Yes! Our tickets to the estate will be good on Saturday as well as Friday evening.

And what about golf?

Contact golf pro, Joe Proben, about tee times. His number is 1-800-438-5800.

If you have any other questions, just call Connie Matzen at 919-821-6658.

CYBERSPACE NAVIGATORS SOUGHT

The AALL Task Force on the Internet has asked local chapters to institute an "Internet Buddy" system, whereby those of you who are experienced navigators through the Internet are matched with new, inexperienced users to help them through tricky straits. If you would like to participate, please send me an e-mail and include any particular areas of expertise. Even if you are not expert in all areas of the Internet, just by being a user you know more than you think you do, and it's guaranteed to be more than a novice knows. Contact: Anne Washburn, SEALL Internet Coordinator, quaker@vnet.net.

RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS

The University of Texas at Austin is offering a fellowship to train new law librarians. The Jamail Center for Legal Research Fellowship is a two-year program that entails training in the Library while completing the M.L.I.S. from the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at The University of Texas at Austin. The Fellow will receive 30 hours of training per week in the Law Library and receive tuition and fee waivers to complete the M.L.I.S. The Library provides the recipient with a stipend of $15,000 per year. Tuition and fee waivers will be provided by G.S.L.I.S.

The requirements for the position are: possession of a J.D. degree from an A.B.A. accredited law school; admission to the Graduate School of Library and Information Science by the time the fellowship starts; and a desire to pursue a career in law librarianship.

The Jamail Center for Legal Research has a staff of 45 full-time employees serving fifteen hundred students and one hundred faculty members. It is housed in a modern, 170,000 square foot building. The fifth largest academic law library in the United States, the Center's collection consists of over 150,000 titles, 850,000 volumes, and volume equivalents with subscriptions to 9,000 serial titles. The library is a member of the Research Libraries Group and uses INNOPAC for its public access catalog and acquisitions/serial control. During the term of the fellowship, the recipient will train in all library departments and will have experience in all phases of academic law librarianship.

The Graduate School of Library and Information Science has an enrollment of approximately four-hundred students pursuing the Master of Library and Information Science (M.L.I.S.) and the Doctor of Philosophy in Library and Information Science. The University of Texas at Austin has an enrollment of 48,000 and diverse academic and social life. Austin is located in the scenic Texas Hill Country and offers many cultural and recreational opportunities.

Those interested in pursuing the fellowship should submit a letter of interest to Roy M. Mersky, Hyder Centennial Professor of Law and Director of Research; Jamail Center for Legal Research; The University of Texas at Austin School of Law; 727 East 26th Street; Austin, Texas 78705 (512-471-7735; and/or Dr. Barbara Imroth, Graduate Advisor; Graduate School of Library and Information Science; University of Texas; Austin, TX 78712-1276 (512-471-3875; Fax 512-471-3971. Minorities are encouraged to apply.

AALL RESEARCH GRANTS

The Executive Board of the American Association of Law Libraries (AALL) has authorized the distribution of grants totalling $10,000 for projects that support its newly established "Research Agenda." AALL's Standing Committee on Research, chaired by Nancy Carol Carter - Director of the University of San Diego Legal Research Center, is developing guidelines for the awarding of grants. These will be announced soon.

The purpose of the research agenda, approved last spring by the Executive Board, is to promote the exploration of questions and issues that have a practical impact on the improvement of law libraries to the legal profession. The agenda sets research priorities in the areas of provision of legal information services, law library collections, legal research, the profession of law librarianship, and law library administration. Within these broad areas, over thirty individual topics have been developed from suggestions made by librarians from all types of law libraries located throughout the country. The Standing Committee welcomes comments on the agenda and ideas for future additions to the list.

The Standing Committee expects to award the first research grants in 1994. For further information on the grant program and copies of the AALL Research Agenda, contact Nancy Carol Carter, University of San Diego Legal Research Center, 619-260-4603.

POCKET GUIDES TO THE INTERNET

by Rhea A-L Ballard

VERONICA, ARCHIE, GOPHER, TELNET, e-mail, snail mail -- All of us, at one time or another, have probably heard, at least one of those terms. But for many of us, those words bring to mind animals and comic strip characters, not the Internet (or the "Net" as it is more affectionately known). Well, if you feel as if you are still sitting in your driveway, while everyone else is on the information super highway, don't despair, help has arrived. If *The Whole Internet*¹ is considered to be a Hornbook on the Net, then the *Pocket Guides to the Internet*² are the Nutshell. The Guides comprise six small volumes which were written to help the reader connect to and navigate through the Internet. Each Guide has the same basic format: brief introduction of the Net, definitions, step-by-step instructions, glossary, addresses, bibliography, and index.

Volume 1 -- Telnetting

This forty-two page volume explains the concept of Telnetting and how to perform the function. Telnetting is when you use the Net to connect your computer system to another computer system. (The computer system that you use is your host. While, someone else's computer system is referred to as your remote host.) When you Telnet, your computer becomes a part of the remote host. Thus, you gain access to the remote host computer's memory, services, processing power, etc. One of the most popular things to Telnet is another library's online catalog. The rest of Volume 1 offers step-by-step instructions on how to Telnet into various remote hosts, glossary of terms, addresses for public access Telnet sites, bibliography, and index.

Volume 2 -- Transferring Files with File Transfer Protocol

File Transfer Protocol or FTP is when you use the Net to access and retrieve files from a remote host. When you FTP, you go into the remote host computer, look around, find the information you need and then tell the remote host to send that information or file back to your computer system. This will enable you to not only read, but also edit the file. The rest of this fifty-four page volume offers step-by-step instructions on how to retrieve files by anonymous FTP, glossary of terms, addresses that support anonymous FTP, bibliography, and index.

Volume 3 -- Using and Navigating Usenet

Lately, there has been much discussion about whether employees will spend too much time using the Net for fun, rather than for research. Some companies have even configured their computer systems so that access to certain Net services is restricted.³ Usenet is probably one of those services. Usenet is similar to the numerous bulletin board systems, in that whatever your interest, you can find something about it. Newsgroups, a part of Usenet, are discussion lists which allow you to subscribe, read and post information. Unlike bulletin boards, messages posted on newsgroups cannot be designated for certain recipients. Anyone with access to that particular newsgroup can read the information. Volume 3 ends with the same basic format: step-by-step instructions on how to access Usenet, glossary of terms, addresses of mail-servers that archive Usenet newsgroups, bibliography, and index.

Volume 4 -- The Internet E-Mail System

In fifty-eight pages, Volume 4 discusses what is probably the most popular and familiar part of the Net. E-mail has many similarities to mail transported by the postal service (known as snail mail). However, as each e-mail system has its own particular nuances, the Guide suggests that you speak with your systems administrator to be trained on your particular e-mail system. The authors use Volume 4 to explain the components of an e-mail address, how to use FINGER, WHOIS, mail servers, mail gateways, and mailing lists. In the final chapter is an example UNIX e-mail session, which is followed by the glossary of terms, addresses of servers and gateways, bibliography, and index.

Volume 5 -- Basic Internet Utilities

Basic Internet Utilities is the last volume currently available. Like Volume 3, Volume 5 is sixty-eight pages. (Volume 6 -- Terminal Connections will be published later this year.)

The authors begin Volume 5 by discussing Archie. Archie, used in conjunction with FTP, allows you to perform a keyword search of the numerous anonymous FTP sites. If the keywords are located, Archie gives the FTP address, so that you can later access the information or file using FTP.

Gopher is a menu-like Net utility that telnets to information on other computer systems. Once you connect to a Gopher site you can select items from a menu. Most Gopher menus allow you to view and retrieve files, which can be later downloaded.

The rest of Volume 6 is used to explain the Wide Area Information Services (WAIS) and the WorldWideWebb (WWW). Like the other volumes, Volume 6 ends with a glossary of terms, addresses of Archie and Gopher sites, bibliography, and index.

If you are new to the wonderful world of the Net, then the Guides are for you. Although each is written as a separate book, it is highly recommended that you purchase all six. For a mere investment of $42.00 ($7.00 each), you will be well on your way to having the world in your pocket.

COSELL CORNER

by Cam Riley

COSELL Bulletin Board: Use the COSELL Bulletin Board! Through the efforts of Carol Roehrenbeck, a COSELL listserv has been established at Nova Southeastern University. So far, very few COSELL members have subscribed, and even fewer members are using it on a regular basis. Suggested uses are an online version of the SEALL newsletter, job postings, consortium information, in-house library documents that might be of interest to the group, and Internet tips. Ken Hirsh has agreed to post articles about technology that might be of interest to the group. It only takes three steps to subscribe or send messages.

To subscribe to the COSELL Bulletin Board:

- 1) Send to: listserv@alpha.acast.nova.edu
- 2) In message text field type:
sub cosell-l [firstname lastname]
- 3) Send message.

To send mail to the entire group:

- 1) Send mail to:
cosell-l@alpha.acast.nova.edu
- 2) Type message in text field
- 3) Send message.

Contact Ron Stroud at Nova Southeastern if you are having any problems in using this system.

Grant Proposal: John Doyle wrote and submitted a grant application to the U.S. Department of Education requesting RLG's Ariel software, and the accompanying hardware to support Internet document transfer for COSELL member libraries. The application is an impressive document, representing a great deal of hard work. We all thank you, John!

COSELL Board Meeting: The COSELL Board met at the AALS Meeting in Orlando. In addition to briefly discussing the grant and the Yankee Book Peddler purchasing agreement, several new items were considered, and will be discussed at the general COSELL meeting in Asheville:

- 1) The staff at Georgetown University Law Library has requested membership in COSELL. It is not clear whether the by-laws, as currently written, will permit them to join. The issue of their membership, and that of the other D.C. schools will be discussed.
- 2) A change in the by-laws will be requested to allow the immediate past chair to be a member of the Executive Board.
- 3) The membership will be asked to vote on the issue of whether COSELL will act as a group to enable libraries to receive group discounts for CIS Cataloging.
- 4) The possibility of applying for grants to image core state collections will be discussed.
